Religion

During our religion time, we have been learning about Jesus' teaching about the lost sheep, lost coin, and the Good Shepherd.

The Pharisees didn't see their need for salvation. They felt their admission to heaven was secure through their heritage and way of life. The Pharisees looked down on anyone who did not keep the Law. These people, they felt, did not deserve salvation.

The tax collectors and sinners were listening to Jesus with a different perspective. They came with fear and hopelessness in their hearts. Jesus gave them encouragement and hope of eternal life. Jesus gave them hope in His message that He came "to seek and to save the lost" (Luke 19:10). Jesus helped the sinners see how important they were to Him. God didn't send a servant to look for lost sheep. He sent His only Son to be a sacrifice for all people—even the worst of sinners. The picture of Christ as shepherd and we as His sheep is filled with many images of our personal relationship with our Lord. The shepherd serves the sheep, and that is what Jesus Himself said He came to do. He came that we may have abundant life, now and eternally, through His care and His sacrifice.
